Through Prayer
Include our residents, guests, staff and volunteers in your daily devotions. Ask God to give them wisdom and guide their relationships, decisions and choices.

Through Financial Contributions
Our greatest need is undisgnated financial contributions: respond to the mailings you receive from the Mission or give securely on our website. Or consider becoming a Bed & Bread Club monthly giving partner (see back of reply form) to ensure a consistent stream of support.

By Sharing Our News
Follow the Mission on Facebook, Instagram, Twitter and YouTube for inspiring testimonies, urgent needs, volunteer opportunities and fundraising events.

By Giving Your Time
From serving meals to teaching classes, volunteers are needed in all areas of the Mission. Contact Chris at (816) 474-9380 or impact@cityunionmission.org to learn more!

Nearly 100 people named City Union Mission in their wills and estate plans in 2019. We’re praying another 150 will make the same compassionate decision in 2020.

From the Streets to College Student...
LaSha’s Story of Transformation
“I was on the streets when I was 12 or 13,” LaSha says, “so I had to survive on my own, by any means necessary.” Sadly, she often sought help from people who used her... instead of the One who loves her... “I didn’t put God first. I totally crossed Him out of the picture.”

When her daughter was born, the stress of caring for a child while still nearly a child herself was overwhelming. As she tried, unsuccessfully, to build a stable life for her little girl, she unintentionally drifted into despair. “I was losing weight, I was depressed, I was feeling my life away,” she recalls. When a woman she trusted encouraged her to change her environment — so that she could change her life — she contacted City Union Mission.

“I didn’t have to call back or to waste because they were full, they had space for me and my daughter right then and there,” she says, now believing God was guiding her to our doors. And once in our care, she felt His love through the compassion and dedication of our staff... “They didn’t give up on me even when I gave up on myself,” she says...

Don’t miss...
A Message from Terry Megli – Page 2
From the Streets to College Student – Page 4

For the rest of the story...
Visit our website at cityunionmission.org to learn how LaSha’s life was restored – through your gifts and prayers — and where she and her daughter are today!
As we prepare our hearts for Easter, I’m reminded of Paul’s message in Philippians 1:12. We serve a God of “reversal.” The Lord takes what seems futile, useless and even painful in our lives and gives it meaning. The resurrection is like that. Through the death of one man, we receive the newness of life.

I can’t think of a truth more important to those staying at the Mission... men and women who are facing devastating struggles with homelessness, poverty and addiction. That Jesus overcame death and rose again to offer hope to a hurting world resonates with our guests. In Jesus, they see that they too can overcome!

The world looks at death as the end and final. But at the Mission, we, like Paul, look at negative circumstances as an opportunity to see God move in the lives of the people we serve, healing and transforming them.

This Easter, I pray you’ll experience the glorious hope of the resurrection in your life... and remember that YOU are making it possible for hurting people to find salvation through the cross too. I’m so grateful that each time you reach out to help, more hearts are touched by the love of a risen Savior.

Terry Megli
Chief Executive Officer

As we prepare our hearts for Easter, I’m reminded of Paul’s message in Philippians 1:12. We serve a God of “reversal.” The Lord takes what seems futile, useless and even painful in our lives and gives it meaning. The resurrection is like that. Through the death of one man, we receive the newness of life.

I can’t think of a truth more important to those staying at the Mission... men and women who are facing devastating struggles with homelessness, poverty and addiction. That Jesus overcame death and rose again to offer hope to a hurting world resonates with our guests. In Jesus, they see that they too can overcome!

The world looks at death as the end and final. But at the Mission, we, like Paul, look at negative circumstances as an opportunity to see God move in the lives of the people we serve, healing and transforming them.

This Easter, I pray you’ll experience the glorious hope of the resurrection in your life... and remember that YOU are making it possible for hurting people to find salvation through the cross too. I’m so grateful that each time you reach out to help, more hearts are touched by the love of a risen Savior.

Thank you,
Terry Megli
Chief Executive Officer

A Message from TERRY MEGLI

“As we prepare our hearts for Easter, I’m reminded of Paul’s message in Philippians 1:12. We serve a God of “reversal.” The Lord takes what seems futile, useless and even painful in our lives and gives it meaning. The resurrection is like that. Through the death of one man, we receive the newness of life.

I can’t think of a truth more important to those staying at the Mission... men and women who are facing devastating struggles with homelessness, poverty and addiction. That Jesus overcame death and rose again to offer hope to a hurting world resonates with our guests. In Jesus, they see that they too can overcome!

The world looks at death as the end and final. But at the Mission, we, like Paul, look at negative circumstances as an opportunity to see God move in the lives of the people we serve, healing and transforming them.

This Easter, I pray you’ll experience the glorious hope of the resurrection in your life... and remember that YOU are making it possible for hurting people to find salvation through the cross too. I’m so grateful that each time you reach out to help, more hearts are touched by the love of a risen Savior.

Thank you,
Terry Megli
Chief Executive Officer

A Message from TERRY MEGLI

“As we prepare our hearts for Easter, I’m reminded of Paul’s message in Philippians 1:12. We serve a God of “reversal.” The Lord takes what seems futile, useless and even painful in our lives and gives it meaning. The resurrection is like that. Through the death of one man, we receive the newness of life.

I can’t think of a truth more important to those staying at the Mission... men and women who are facing devastating struggles with homelessness, poverty and addiction. That Jesus overcame death and rose again to offer hope to a hurting world resonates with our guests. In Jesus, they see that they too can overcome!

The world looks at death as the end and final. But at the Mission, we, like Paul, look at negative circumstances as an opportunity to see God move in the lives of the people we serve, healing and transforming them.

This Easter, I pray you’ll experience the glorious hope of the resurrection in your life... and remember that YOU are making it possible for hurting people to find salvation through the cross too. I’m so grateful that each time you reach out to help, more hearts are touched by the love of a risen Savior.

Thank you,
Terry Megli
Chief Executive Officer

A Message from TERRY MEGLI

“As we prepare our hearts for Easter, I’m reminded of Paul’s message in Philippians 1:12. We serve a God of “reversal.” The Lord takes what seems futile, useless and even painful in our lives and gives it meaning. The resurrection is like that. Through the death of one man, we receive the newness of life.

I can’t think of a truth more important to those staying at the Mission... men and women who are facing devastating struggles with homelessness, poverty and addiction. That Jesus overcame death and rose again to offer hope to a hurting world resonates with our guests. In Jesus, they see that they too can overcome!

The world looks at death as the end and final. But at the Mission, we, like Paul, look at negative circumstances as an opportunity to see God move in the lives of the people we serve, healing and transforming them.

This Easter, I pray you’ll experience the glorious hope of the resurrection in your life... and remember that YOU are making it possible for hurting people to find salvation through the cross too. I’m so grateful that each time you reach out to help, more hearts are touched by the love of a risen Savior.

Thank you,
Terry Megli
Chief Executive Officer

A Message from TERRY MEGLI

“As we prepare our hearts for Easter, I’m reminded of Paul’s message in Philippians 1:12. We serve a God of “reversal.” The Lord takes what seems futile, useless and even painful in our lives and gives it meaning. The resurrection is like that. Through the death of one man, we receive the newness of life.

I can’t think of a truth more important to those staying at the Mission... men and women who are facing devastating struggles with homelessness, poverty and addiction. That Jesus overcame death and rose again to offer hope to a hurting world resonates with our guests. In Jesus, they see that they too can overcome!

The world looks at death as the end and final. But at the Mission, we, like Paul, look at negative circumstances as an opportunity to see God move in the lives of the people we serve, healing and transforming them.

This Easter, I pray you’ll experience the glorious hope of the resurrection in your life... and remember that YOU are making it possible for hurting people to find salvation through the cross too. I’m so grateful that each time you reach out to help, more hearts are touched by the love of a risen Savior.

Thank you,
Terry Megli
Chief Executive Officer

A Message from TERRY MEGLI

“As we prepare our hearts for Easter, I’m reminded of Paul’s message in Philippians 1:12. We serve a God of “reversal.” The Lord takes what seems futile, useless and even painful in our lives and gives it meaning. The resurrection is like that. Through the death of one man, we receive the newness of life.

I can’t think of a truth more important to those staying at the Mission... men and women who are facing devastating struggles with homelessness, poverty and addiction. That Jesus overcame death and rose again to offer hope to a hurting world resonates with our guests. In Jesus, they see that they too can overcome!

The world looks at death as the end and final. But at the Mission, we, like Paul, look at negative circumstances as an opportunity to see God move in the lives of the people we serve, healing and transforming them.

This Easter, I pray you’ll experience the glorious hope of the resurrection in your life... and remember that YOU are making it possible for hurting people to find salvation through the cross too. I’m so grateful that each time you reach out to help, more hearts are touched by the love of a risen Savior.

Thank you,
Terry Megli
Chief Executive Officer

A Message from TERRY MEGLI

“As we prepare our hearts for Easter, I’m reminded of Paul’s message in Philippians 1:12. We serve a God of “reversal.” The Lord takes what seems futile, useless and even painful in our lives and gives it meaning. The resurrection is like that. Through the death of one man, we receive the newness of life.

I can’t think of a truth more important to those staying at the Mission... men and women who are facing devastating struggles with homelessness, poverty and addiction. That Jesus overcame death and rose again to offer hope to a hurting world resonates with our guests. In Jesus, they see that they too can overcome!

The world looks at death as the end and final. But at the Mission, we, like Paul, look at negative circumstances as an opportunity to see God move in the lives of the people we serve, healing and transforming them.

This Easter, I pray you’ll experience the glorious hope of the resurrection in your life... and remember that YOU are making it possible for hurting people to find salvation through the cross too. I’m so grateful that each time you reach out to help, more hearts are touched by the love of a risen Savior.

Thank you,
Terry Megli
Chief Executive Officer

A Message from TERRY MEGLI

“As we prepare our hearts for Easter, I’m reminded of Paul’s message in Philippians 1:12. We serve a God of “reversal.” The Lord takes what seems futile, useless and even painful in our lives and gives it meaning. The resurrection is like that. Through the death of one man, we receive the newness of life.

I can’t think of a truth more important to those staying at the Mission... men and women who are facing devastating struggles with homelessness, poverty and addiction. That Jesus overcame death and rose again to offer hope to a hurting world resonates with our guests. In Jesus, they see that they too can overcome!

The world looks at death as the end and final. But at the Mission, we, like Paul, look at negative circumstances as an opportunity to see God move in the lives of the people we serve, healing and transforming them.

This Easter, I pray you’ll experience the glorious hope of the resurrection in your life... and remember that YOU are making it possible for hurting people to find salvation through the cross too. I’m so grateful that each time you reach out to help, more hearts are touched by the love of a risen Savior.

Thank you,
Terry Megli
Chief Executive Officer

A Message from TERRY MEGLI

“As we prepare our hearts for Easter, I’m reminded of Paul’s message in Philippians 1:12. We serve a God of “reversal.” The Lord takes what seems futile, useless and even painful in our lives and gives it meaning. The resurrection is like that. Through the death of one man, we receive the newness of life.

I can’t think of a truth more important to those staying at the Mission... men and women who are facing devastating struggles with homelessness, poverty and addiction. That Jesus overcame death and rose again to offer hope to a hurting world resonates with our guests. In Jesus, they see that they too can overcome!

The world looks at death as the end and final. But at the Mission, we, like Paul, look at negative circumstances as an opportunity to see God move in the lives of the people we serve, healing and transforming them.

This Easter, I pray you’ll experience the glorious hope of the resurrection in your life... and remember that YOU are making it possible for hurting people to find salvation through the cross too. I’m so grateful that each time you reach out to help, more hearts are touched by the love of a risen Savior.

Thank you,
Terry Megli
Chief Executive Officer